SUCCESS STORIES

JobsOhio Small Business Grant

Since 2020, the JobsOhio Small Business Grant has helped over 500 businesses across Ohio grow, fueling new jobs and opportunity in their communities.

BUCKEYE PRECISION THREADS

After relocating from Long Island, Buckeye Precision Threads found its new home – and opportunity – in Warren, Ohio. With help from a $25,000 JobsOhio Small Business Grant, the specialty thread grinding company began upgrading its facility to increase production capacity and serve high-precision markets such as lead screws, taps, and molds.

The grant enabled Buckeye Precision Threads to move forward with critical improvements that laid the groundwork for innovation and customer growth. Lake to River guided the company through the grant process, helping it tap into Ohio's strong manufacturing ecosystem and skilled workforce.

Now rooted in the Lake to River region, Buckeye Precision Threads is ready to grow, innovate, and serve as a high-precision partner to customers nationwide.

REM ELECTRONICS SUPPLY COMPANY

REM Electronics, a long-standing electronics supplier and contract manufacturer in Warren, Ohio is preparing for growth. With support from a $50,000 JobsOhio Small Business Grant, the company is investing in new, advanced machinery that will boost productivity, create new jobs, and help meet growing customer demand.

Lake to River played a key role in securing the grant, working alongside REM's team to navigate the process and champion the project to JobsOhio decision-makers. The new technology not only helps REM maintain its edge in a competitive industry but also creates momentum for future expansion in Eastern Ohio.

With strong roots and forward momentum, REM is proving that small businesses remain a powerful engine of growth in the region.
